

Support agent localizes with landmark and relays position data, enabling the primary agent to take a more direct path.